

— THE — SECOND CENTURY

a campaign for
The Garden Club of America

Final Campaign Report

“In my eyes, the enormous success of this campaign means that we all believe in the purpose of the GCA and its ability to create change for the good. On the cellular level, it reinforces the importance of our relationships: individually, club to club, within our zone, and with the national organization.”

—Claire Alexander, Alamo Heights-Terrell Hills Garden Club, Zone IX

About the Campaign

The goal was clear: to increase our endowment, secure our financial future, and enable the leadership and vision that have always characterized the GCA.

Between 2016 and 2019, thousands of GCA club members and supporters responded to this call to help the GCA sustain a history of achievement that began in 1913.

Now, because of you, we have raised an unprecedented $11.3 million, and we will step boldly into our future of impacting our clubs and communities for the better.

Thank you. The power of one is great—but our power when working together is enormous.

in four essential areas of the GCA
purpose

Gardening, Horticulture, & Creative Arts

Education & Leadership

Dear Club Members,

It is no coincidence that the GCA undertook a strategic planning effort in 2018-19 to set us on a path forward at the same time that we undertook this historic campaign. We are steadfast in our efforts to nurture the exceptional work of the GCA member clubs.

More than ever, we are working with laser focus towards our vision for the future: Informed volunteers working for a beautiful, healthy planet.

We take seriously the importance of being excellent stewards of the GCA's financial assets. This campaign has helped to grow the size of our endowment. In targeted areas, our investment draw will now provide more of the funds required to continue our vital work.

The increased investment payout will allow the Board to stabilize or decrease the cost of attending conferences and national meetings. We will be able to offer new grants to member clubs for community projects, restoration needs, and more. We will fund an increased number of qualified scholars each and every year. And we will put our resources towards our mission: Bringing clubs together to cultivate the bond among people, plants, and the environment.

What's more, this campaign has fueled sustainable annual and planned giving programs. With volunteer support at the helm of these efforts, we will maintain the financial security required to meet tomorrow's opportunities and challenges.

With sincere thanks for all that you do for your club, your community,
and the GCA,
Debbie Edwards
GCA President

Conservation & Environmental Advocacy

Civic Improvement & Restoration

Dear Supporters and Friends,

Together, we did it! The overwhelming support from donors across the country has secured The Garden Club of America's financial future.

These gifts are a resounding insistence that the GCA continue its work in full force. We are an influential champion for America's plants and gardens, and we nurture the love of gardening. We inspire the love of nature through excellence in the creative arts. We will support the next generation of environmental leaders through hundreds of scholarships. We remain committed to conservation education and advocacy, and positive change. We focus on civic improvement and restoration, providing resources locally and nationally.

We must expand all of our efforts, and because of the success of the Second Century Campaign, we can.

The people listed on the following page volunteered over the course of three plus years to see the campaign to its remarkable conclusion. The donors listed in the pages that follow have given generously to help us meet and exceed our financial goals. All of you have made The Garden Club of America a stronger, healthier, more dynamic organization of which we are all deeply proud. Thank you for the amazing opportunity to serve as chairman.

Gratefully,
Hilary Salatich
Second Century Campaign Chairman
